

Messenger Habits In English and Spanish

Four Friends - Two English speakers Two Spanish Speakers

Period 2012 - 2018

Suprisingly enough even taking into account that the period goes from 2012 to 2018 I still have sent more messages to friend who are in the US than the ones in Spain. That could be caused after eight years living abroad.

Once of the things that shouldn't be suprising is that I have messaged more during the Summer months, (when I'm on college break) and for friends in Spain it seems as we might not talk as much as we used to but still the Summer period is still present.

The main takeaway from the wordcloud is the huge difference in language habits, English seems more friendly, unconcerned about what we say, while in Spanish it seems more formal and polite. Could it be that eight years have made my old friendships fade and I check on them just because we were good friends a while ago? 🙌
